

Ivy League with Oak Trees

Texas State's name was recently listed, not once but twice, alongside those of some prominent institutions—Brown, Wellesley, Swarthmore and the University of Chicago, to name a few. The list? Schools attended by recipients of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund's 2007 Fellowships for Aspiring Teachers of Color. Texas State seniors Irina Gonzalez and Priscilla Riojas were among only 25 students in the nation selected for the prestigious fellowships. Texas State is proud of the achievements of our stellar students. Thanks to them, we're the only public university in Texas to make the exclusive list.
